

Circuit Judge Upholds State School Bus Law

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 1963 school bus law is constitutional, says Ingham County Circuit Judge Sam Hughes in what one state attorney calls a "landmark decision....the first to interpret the entire (religion) section of the Michigan Constitution."

Hughes upheld the law which requires public schools to provide bus transportation, on an equal basis, to non-public school students in their districts.

He dismissed a suit filed more than two years ago against the State Board of Education and the state treasurer by a group of Ingham County parents, who contended that the law violated the separation of church and state.

Hughes said the providing of such transportation serves a secular — not a religious — purpose. The promotion of education and the safe — guarding of the physical well — being of the students.

"It seems to this court," Hughes said, "that we are sometimes so fearful of violating our constitutions relative to the prohibition against our government's establishment of a religion or making some move that destroys the separation of church and state that we overlook the fact that we deny some rights to groups or individuals because of religion."

The decision was handed down late Friday and came to light Wednesday.

Eugene Krasicky, assistant attorney general in charge of education matters, said it was the first time a Michigan court had ruled on Art. I, Sec. 4 of the 1963 Michigan Constitution. Krasicky agreed with a Traverse City attorney involved in the case that it was the first time "a Michigan court has ruled on the church — state question with regard to the right of parents to send their children to church — related schools and not suffer the loss of public welfare benefits."

The attorney, Stuart Hubbell, represented seven Catholic, Christian Reformed and Lutheran families who entered the case as intervening defendants.

"I think there is no question but that we will appeal this decision," said Ernest Mazey of the American Civil Liberties Union, which assisted the dissenting parents. "But the attorneys on the case will have to get together and decide exactly what form our appeal will take."

Racial Troubles Flare In Arizona

GLOBE, Ariz. (AP) — Police broke up a rock-throwing disturbance Wednesday night involving Negro and white youths and some adults.

About 100 persons were involved, said Police Chief Rod Weinberg. No one was injured. Weinberg said teen-age girls in a car apparently started it by shouting at Negro youths visiting in downtown Globe from a federal Job Corps camp at San Carlos.

There was no fighting, but rocks and other articles were thrown, police said.

MIKE GROST is only 12 years old and stands less than five feet, but after two years as a student at Michigan State U. he's head and shoulders above most students. The crew-cut youngster has plugged quietly along among 35,000 other students at MSU's East Lansing campus and completed his sophomore year with his first grades of "B"—one in French and one in religion—to go with an otherwise straight "A" record. ## Mike Grost, 12, Faces College Junior Year; Bones Up In Research

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mike Grost is one 12-year-old with no summer vacation problem of, "Hey, Mom, what is there to do?" The National Science Foundation grants him $30 a week to do mathematical research.

It is a program to encourage college students, and that is what Mike is — almost an all-A student at that.

Mike who just completed his sophomore year at Michigan State University's Honors College, plugged quietly along among 35,000 other students at the East Lansing campus, studying calculus, physics, religion, French and computer science.

He received only two grades of B — one in French and one in religion — to go with an otherwise straight-A record.

Faculty advisers, who first watched to see if the decision to admit Mike to college at age 10 was correct, no longer show such concern.

They are careful not to influence him toward any one career field.

Tries Athletics

His classmates exerted a bit of influence on him last spring, suggesting he make a try at athletics.

Mike agreed and moved into the perfect spot for a crew-cut 100-pounder — coxswain for an intramural racing shell.

Mike was the youngest known freshman in the United States since 1886. He could receive a master's degree before he is old enough to drive, and a doctorate at an age when many students are just entering college.

Mike's father, William Grost of Lansing, says that it is unimportant whether Mike receives his bachelor's degree at age 14. He and his wife, Audrey, would rather see him proceed slowly, taking extra courses and exploring new fields.

Picks Physical Science

As a junior, Mike has to pick a major field and has decided on physical science.

Negro Man Killed, Riot Erupts At Muskegon Heights

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (AP) — Some 300 shouting Negroes marched on the Muskegon Heights police station Wednesday night demanding an official inquiry into the fatal shooting of a Negro man by an off-duty police officer.

Cries of "Let's get 'em, let's hang 'em" were heard from a portion of the crowd before Police Chief James Farkas and Assistant Prosecutor William Hipkiss persuaded the crowd to leave the street and meet in a nearby church.

At the meeting Farkas and Hipkiss promised a full investigation of the killing of Joseph Modisett Jr., 27, by off-duty Patrolman Calhoun Boles, 31, in a bar early Wednesday.

The inquiry was set for Aug. 1.

Modisett's brother, Mark, 19, ran up the aisle toward Hipkiss but was subdued by others in the crowd.

After the crowd dispersed several rock-throwing incidents erupted.

Senate Committee Ponders Action For Airlines Strike

Daily Loss In Millions Felt Across Nation

NEW YORK (AP) — The 21-day-old airline strike is making a deepening cut into the economy, bringing daily losses in the millions to tourism, industry and many small businesses.

An Associated Press survey found that hotels, food and fuel suppliers, flower dealers and the bootblacks, sky-caps, and other service personnel who depend on planes for their livelihood have been severely hurt.

A spokesman for New York City's Convention and Visitors Bureau estimated its tourist industry losses were running at $750,000 a day while the president of Miami's Chamber of Commerce said the strike toll there is reaching "catastrophic proportions."

Suppliers of food and fuel to the five struck lines were reported losing $1 million a day and a spokesman for the lines — Eastern, Trans World, United, Northwest and National — said their total daily revenue loss was $7 million.

The cost of the walkout so far to striking machinist union workers and laid off employees has been set at $30 million. Union members are receiving $25 weekly benefit checks and furloughed workers can collect unemployment insurance.

With the big losers, are many small-business men. In Minneapolis an importer of Hawaiian orchids was forced to close down. A Wilmington, Del., supplier of mice to laboratories doubled his normal operating costs to charter a World War II bomber to ship a load of pregnant mice.

At Boston's Logan Airport, newsstands and shoe-shine parlors have closed. In California, airport barbers, travel agents and florists have been so hard hit that the State Utility Commission has ordered a study of conditions.

In Miami, however, the whole community was reported feeling the effects of an estimated $40-million loss.

Consumer Council Members May Be Named In August

LANSING (AP) — Although Michigan's new Consumers Council will not start official business until next spring, legislative leaders plan to appoint several members early so they can start studying consumer problems immediately.

The nine-member council will direct a program to protect consumers from harmful products, false advertising and deceptive sales practices.

The law creating the council, passed at the last session of the Legislature, will not go into effect until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns for the year.

House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, said the Legislature Council, which will appoint three of the members, may make its choices at its next meeting, Aug. 23.

SENS. JACOB JAVITS, R-N.Y., Lister Hill, D-Ala., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., left to right, confer before Sen. Hill, chairman, began a Senate Labor Committee hearing on whether the airline strike constitutes a national emergency requiring a special law to halt it. Sec. of Labor W. Willard Wirtz urged the Committee to have Congress drop the legislation proposed by Sen. Morse and order negotiators "back to the woodshed" of collective bargaining. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Dead Rise To 4,440 For Viet Nam War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese pilots struck Communist positions in South Viet Nam Wednesday with new fury, flying a record total of 826 combat sorties, a military spokesman reported.

American fliers also hammered at North Viet Nam despite bad weather limiting most of their 103 missions Wednesday to the southern panhandle.

The heavy air blows in the South accompanied a rise in small-scale Communist attacks as the Viet Cong stepped up hit-and-run attacks in the wake of their defeats in larger battles with U.S. troops.

The most significant of these assaults took place 18 miles from Saigon where guerrillas overran a village a few hours before dawn and drove off the 40 militiamen defenders.

While no major fighting has been reported since Sunday, a U.S. spokesman said American combat dead more than doubled last week, presumably as a result of U.S. Marine losses as the Leathernecks launched Operation Hastings against a North Vietnamese division near the northern border July 15.

The spokesman said 136 Americans were killed, 578 wounded and 14 missing compared with 65 killed, 368 wounded and no missing in the previous seven days. Total allied dead for the week of July 10-16 climbed to 251, compared with 279 the previous week. Communist dead rose to 1,272, an increase of 72, the spokesman said.

The casualties brought the unofficial total of U.S. combat dead to 2,728 since Jan. 1 and to 4,440 for the war.

Soapy-Cavanagh Joint Program Prospect Fades

By The Associated Press
U.S. Senate hopeful G. Mennen Williams today appeared to reject his opponent's invitation for a joint appearance on a campaign television show Sunday night.

Williams opponent in the Democratic Senate primary, Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, plans the hour-long telecast. Wednesday he invited the former governor to join him on the show.

"I have felt no overwhelming compulsion for joint exposure with my primary opponent," Williams said in a printed statement today. "And if he feels such an overwhelming compulsion for joint exposure with me, I don't know that is any concern of mine."

Williams' statement indicated he regarded Cavanagh's proposal as an invitation to a debate, although the mayor's telegram to Williams said, "the format will exclude debate if that is your wish."

Thus it was not clear from Williams' statement whether he had ruled out the possibility of any sort of TV appearance with Cavanagh.

Williams said Cavanagh's invitation "reinforces my suspicion all along that his real purpose in proposing debate was to create a public spectacle rather than public enlightenment."

He added he would not "lend myself to any device which could divide and weaken the Democratic Party."

Present Cavanagh plans for the statewide show call for viewers to telephone questions which will be screened by a panel of newsmen.

In a political forum Wednesday, Williams said the United States owes support to the South Viet Nam government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky even if that government is a dictatorship.

"I'm not defending the character of the Ky government or opposing it," Williams said. He added he did not like dictatorships, but order, he said, is necessary in South Viet Nam.

Williams said the United States and South Viet Nam must demonstrate clear military superiority in order to promote negotiations with the Communists.

Ike In Hospital For A Checkup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been in Walter Reed Army Hospital since Monday for what an aide called "routine tests."

The aide, Brig. Gen. Robert L. Schulz, said that he had no information as to the nature or purpose of the tests, or as to how much longer Eisenhower would be hospitalized.

Eisenhower, 75, suffered a heart attack in 1955 while President, and another last year in Augusta, Ga. He also underwent emergency surgery for ileitis in 1956, and he had a major stroke in 1957. He spent three weeks at Walter Reed Hospital last May for treatment of an arthritic condition.

"I'm happy it's over," said the bearded, dirty French ex-paratrooper.

He was driven to Death Valley National Monument headquarters and left shortly thereafter for Los Angeles.

Chief ranger Homer Leach said the 28-year-old adventurer slept most of Wednesday night on the desert south of Stovepipe Wells, too tired to go on.

"He got up about 5 a.m. and finished the hike in about two hours," Leach said.

Marquant started the trek over mountains and desert seven days ago. He was met daily by a support truck carrying water and food. Temperatures ranged up to 125 degrees during the last few days of his walk across salt flats on the floor of the valley, and ground temperatures up to 190 degrees blistered his sneaker-clad feet.

Carmichael said leaders of all types of Negro organizations will be invited. Invitations also will be extended to whites, he said, "if they have any black power."

Wirtz Recalls Negotiators In Try At Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airline strike negotiators go back to the Labor Department's bargaining "woodshed" today while a Senate committee votes on how Congress should deal with emergency legislation on the three-week walkout.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz reconvenes the strike talks for the first time in three days despite pessimism on both sides about thawing negotiations out of a deep freeze.

"I think they ought to be sent back to the woodshed," Wirtz said Wednesday in urging the Senate Labor Committee to hold off a few days on any legislation to order 35,000 strikers back to work on five major airlines.

Wirtz said no national emergency exists at the moment despite multimillion-dollar economic losses, although such a threat could arise if the strike goes on much longer.

Wirtz also defended President Johnson against insistent queries from some members of the committee on why the negotiators weren't called to the White House. Such a move was not warranted, Wirtz said.

Morse Rejects Plea
Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., rejected Wirtz's plea for a delay on committee action and insisted the committee vote on his bill to order the strike halted for 180 days while talks continue.

"There is no question about the fact that there is a national emergency," said Morse, who headed a presidential emergency board that earlier recommended a compromise settlement.

The five strike-bound airlines — United, Eastern, National, Northwest and Trans World — normally carry more than 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic.

Prospects Dim
Both P.L. Siemiller, president of the striking AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, and chief airlines negotiator William J. Curtin said "yes, sir" when senators asked if they would resume talks.

"The prospects, of course, are not bright," Curtin said. "We do not feel that the carriers are going to make an offer that is satisfactory to the members by majority vote as long as there is pending legislation," Siemiller said.

"They (the airlines) would rather have legislation than a settlement," he said.

Curtin said the airlines feared repercussions if they raised their offer further above White House wage increase guidelines of 3.2 per cent per year.

He said about 3.8 per cent was the airlines' last offer, while the union is demanding 5 per cent a year. Top mechanics now earn $3.52 per hour.

"Need 'Paddle'"
"We don't think our demands are inflationary," Siemiller said.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., the committee chairman, said of Wirtz' "back to the woodshed" plea: "This time we could say if they didn't settle it, we'd bring the paddle to the woodshed."

Wirtz agreed, saying "and we wouldn't tell them which paddle."

The five struck airlines agreed last August to bargain jointly with the machinists union. Braniff, Continental and Northeast airlines, with employees represented by the same union, did not enter the agreement and were not struck.

A threatened strike against American Airlines by members of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union was postponed for 60 days when the White House announced Wednesday that President Johnson was setting up an emergency board to study issues between the airline and the union.

Consultant On Business Set

Appointment of Vernon Johnson as a Small Business Development Center consultant is announced by Harold Dettman, chairman of UPACAP.

Johnson, a native of Newberry, will serve Marquette, Alger, Mackinac, Chippewa and Luce counties. He will work with local SBDC committees which have been established in each county to aid in the processing of economic opportunity loans.

There are three consultants in the Upper Peninsula working under the direction of George W. Rusch, UPACAP-SBDC coordinator-director. Each consultant is responsible for five counties, riding a circuit and serving each of the county SBDCs on scheduled days each month.

They will examine applications and assess the feasibility of suggested expansion or creation of businesses and the adequacy of management and all segments of production planned, presenting the facts and recommendations to the county SBDC committees. The consultants will provide management advice and assistance in all phases of business and industry, and follow up work on approved loans.

Rusch said that technical assistance will not be limited to SBDC loan recipients but will be available to all small businesses and industrial concerns as well. "To date over 50 loans have been approved in the Upper Peninsula, which total over $800,000," he said.

Johnson completed a year of post graduate work in book-keeping after graduation from Newberry High School. He also completed short correspondence courses in higher accounting and better business management from LaSalle Extension University.

Most of Johnson's background and experience has been in the accounting field, but he has been a business proprietor and is acquainted with the problems of the small business man, said Rusch.

In World War II he served in the Air Force as a flight instructor and also piloting B24s and C54s. He was discharged with the rank of Captain.

Mack Mineral Act Attacked

Former State Senator Philip Rahoi of Iron Mountain says that Senator Joseph Mack's Mineral Taxation Act is going to work a hardship on small mining companies and cost the taxpayers a lot of money.

The new law links mineral rights to the surface title. Property in the Upper Peninsula and makes them taxable. The aim, said Mack in sponsoring the bill, is to end reservation of mineral rights so they can be transferred separate from the surface title. His bill, said Mack, should, by making mineral reservations of non-operating mining companies subject to a mineral tax, hasten commercial development of mineral properties and create jobs.

Zimmerman and Lewis won the fifth race of the series to run their series point total to 27 1/2. Boyce and Nelson finished second Wednesday, but lead in total points with 33 1/2.

Order of finish last night and total points accumulated in the series: 3. Dean Shipman and Harold Cloutier (18); 4. Terry Reynolds (17); 5. Pete Boyce and John Vanderville (14); 6. Pat Gasman and Walter Zimmerman (19); 7. Bill Moras (2).

Ex-Senator Rahoi, who is a candidate for Democratic nomination for senator in the 38th Senatorial District with incumbent Senator Mack and with Houghton County Prosecutor Walter Dartland, disagrees sharply with Mack on the results of his act.

"I checked Dickinson County," said Rahoi, "and we have 35,000 descriptions of land for taxing purposes. Every description would have to be reviewed under this law."

"One forty acre tract has 168 lots on it. If the owner of the mineral right reservation on this forty were made to pay taxes on it—at 37 mills per $100—it would bring in only $7.40."

"This is to revert back to the credit of the surface owner under the bill and this would amount to about four cents per description. Just to notify the owner would be five cents for a stamp, so the administrative costs would have to be borne

Pulpwood Industry Cleared

Govt. Drops Pricing Charge

Federal Judge Robert E. Tehan this week in Milwaukee dismissed civil antitrust suits that charged five paper companies and five individuals in pulpwood supply firms with conspiracy to restrain competition in the purchase of pulpwood.

The government acted four years after it had charged the firms with a conspiracy to fix prices and three years after a federal court in Lower Michigan hearing similar charges against paper industry firms there had found that the government had failed to prove its case.

The suits were the result of a federal grand jury investigation in Milwaukee in 1961 and 1962 of alleged price fixing in the pulpwood industry. The announcement of the suits dismissal at Milwaukee said that the action resulted from an agreement between the federal government and the defendants made in November, which provided that the Milwaukee suit would be disposed of in the same manner as a similar civil antitrust action in Lower Michigan.

The dismissals there resulted when U. S. District Judge W. Wallace Kent granted defense motions based on grounds that the government had failed to establish its case in the trial then underway at Grand Rapids in June, 1963.

The government, represented by Joseph J. O'Malley of the Department of Justice, Anti-Trust Division, alleged that the companies had conspired since 1951 to depress prices they paid for pulpwood bought in Lower Michigan. All had pleaded innocent to the indictment returned against them at Grand Rapids by a federal grand jury July 11, 1962. They also denied any allegations that they acted to hold down pulpwood prices.

Defendants in that action were Packaging Corp. of America; Scott Paper Co. of Philadelphia; S. D. Warden of Boston; Menasha Wooden Ware Corp. of Menasha, Wis.; American Excelsior Corp. of Chicago; Hammermill Paper Co. of Erie, Pa.; and Abitibi Corp. of Alpena.

Three individuals also had been named as respondents, including Edgar Habighorst of Oshkosh, with American Excelsior, and six other firms had been named as co-conspirators but not defendants. Witnesses admitted that the firms held meetings, but said that there was no effort to fix prices and that the companies actually paid different rates to producers for pulpwood.

The Manistee, Mich., News Advocate said editorial after the Grand Rapids dismissals: "Mercifully, Judge Kent spared a jury the embarrassment of attempting to evaluate a case that, in the course of a week of hearings, had not really been presented as anything resembling a conspiracy, let alone establishing anything criminally against the public's interest."

"His directed verdict of acquittal thus shortened an exercise in futility which had been expected to drag on for at least a month at considerable expense to the defendants involved—to say nothing of cost to taxpayers whose interests, it now turns out, had not been abused in the least."

Firms Fined
In the similar Wisconsin and Upper Michigan cases resulting from the Milwaukee grand jury indictments, Judge Tehan in July, 1963 at Madison assessed fines totaling $43,000 against four paper companies charged with fixing the price of pulpwood after they pleaded no contest to the charges. Fined were (Marathon Division) American Can Co.; Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co.; Mosinee Paper Mills Co. and Wausau Paper Mills Co.

Two other firms, St. Regis Paper Co., and Consolidated Paper Co., pleaded innocent to these criminal charges and the charges against them were dropped because O'Malley said the government did not believe it could successfully prosecute its criminal case against only two of the six original defendants. The civil suits against the four firms were dropped when they did not contest the criminal actions on which they were fined.

O'Malley made a study of the actions against the Upper Peninsula defendants in which it was pointed out to him by persons intimately familiar with the Upper Peninsula pulpwood supply situation that there was a variance in the prices paid by the different mills and that for many years there had been a chronic oversupply of pulpwood in the U. P. which depressed the price. Despite this the mills had held a price level substantially above the price at which they could have filled their yards with wood.

Like Michigan Case
Now this situation has been reversed. There still is lots of wood, but woods labor is lacking and there is a tight supply situation which has moved the price of wood up substantially. Judge Tehan said that the civil (non criminal) cases at Milwaukee would have had much of the same testimony at the cases in Michigan.

Defendants in the Milwaukee cases were Eugene and Vincent Peterson of Carney; Morton D. Jensen, Charles W. Stoll and John L. Hebert of the Sawyer Stoll Timber Co. of Escanaba; Badger Paper Mills, Inc., of Peshigo, Wis.; Kimberly Clark Corp. of Neenah, Wis.; Scott Paper Co. of Philadelphia; Mead Co. of Dayton, O.; and Peterson Brothers Co., of Carney.

Admiral Tighe left Cleveland Monday and has visited 23 stations in the Portage group during his tour.

Improvement Next Year?
As far as plans go to upgrade the Escanaba Light Station to a Rescue Station and erect a new building, Admiral Tighe said this pretty much depended on Congressional appropriations. He said construction of the new facilities in Escanaba is now scheduled to begin next year.

"The building has been programmed in our schedule," he said, "but this, of course, depends on getting the money." The appropriation for the Coast Guard depends on the Viet Nam war situation, he said.

The U. S. Government Printing Office is considered the world's largest printer.

Admiral Inspects Escanaba Station

The 9th U. S. Coast Guard district includes about 244 installations in the Great Lakes area.

Rear Admiral Charles Tighe, who stopped in Escanaba today on a familiarization and inspection tour of the Portage and Duluth groups, has visited about 80 stations since taking command of the district about two months ago.

Eventually, he plans to visit every station.

"This is my first duty in the Great Lakes area," he said, "I find you can understand the problems units face a lot better by getting out to see them."

Admiral Tighe, his personal aide, Richard A. Coonin, and Lt. David Freeborn, Hancock, commander of the Portage group, arrived in Escanaba by automobile last night after their helicopter developed troubles in Munising.

Stop At Manistique
From Munising, they made stops at Grand Marais, Choix Point and Manistique before coming to Escanaba.

The group inspected Minneapolis Shoals light and the Escanaba Light Station this morning before Admiral Tighe took off by Coast Guard plane for Cleveland headquarters this afternoon.

August J. Brazeau

Ronald F. De Vos

John L. Greene, executive vice president of the First National Bank & Trust Co. today announced that the bank's board of directors has approved advancement of August J. Brazeau to the position of cashier, and the election of Ronald F. De Vos as assistant cashier.

Brazeau has been with First National since August of 1960, and has had the title of assistant cashier since 1960. His major responsibilities are related to bank operation and management and he will continue to work in this same capacity.

Brazeau has been active in the National Association for Bank Audit Control and Operations and is now president of the Lake Chapter Division.

De Vos came to First National in January of 1965 from Capital Bank of Chicago. He has been active in installment lending for the past 13 years and his major responsibilities at First National are in this field.

Pioneer Park Breaks Records

Pioneer Trail Park on the Escanaba River, like Wilderness Park in Gladstone on Little Bay de Noc, is having a record-breaking summer.

The tourists have moved out of the big cities by the thousands and the Michigan State Tourist Council says U. P. visitation is substantially ahead of last year.

Walter Lewke, manager of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, says that Pioneer Trail Park, with 55 campsites, had 62 camps last night.

Registrations at the park hit 1,000 in the second week of August last year and they passed that mark on July 18 this year and are expected to reach 2,000, said Lewke.

With 50 units filled regularly, the camp is entertaining 150 persons or more nightly and it makes quite an economic impact on the community, says Lewke, as the campers buy groceries daily and are also active shoppers for souvenirs and for needs.

The Delta County Road Commission administers the park and its increasing investment in tourist facilities is paying off, says Al Gustafson, who supervises the operation.

The tourist camp in the park was opened three years ago to tenters, campers and trailers with 25 campsites available and with tables the only facilities provided. There are now grills for cooking, electrical outlets, rest rooms and tables, and the

The Airline Strike

The nation is in a bad bind in the airline strike. The results of the strike are intolerable. An estimated 150,000 daily air travelers and more than 4,000 airliner flights to more than 230 cities aren't moving because 35,000 members of the International Association of Machinists and the managements of five of our major airlines can't agree on a labor contract.

For 20 days thousands of people haven't been able to go to funerals or weddings or to transact business because the airlines are struck. The government has had to make special provision to move vital traffic for the war in Viet Nam. Travelers have had to spend as much as 55 hours in the air going circuitously on feeder lines to accomplish a flight that normally takes 4 hours.

Our airlines are now our No. 1 public carrier, accounting for 57 per cent of intercity travel last year. (Railroads moved 16 per cent of passengers, buses 27 per cent.) Our overseas traffic is now 83 per cent air-borne.

The economic losses from the prolonged shutdown of most of our national trunkline air service are huge. New York City loses a half million dollars a day in tourist trade alone; virtually every area of the country suffers.

The striking machinists were paid a top of $3.52 an hour for servicing the more than 700 planes of the five struck airlines and they are demanding a 53 cent-an-hour pay boost over three years, plus a shorter work week, higher overtime wages, company-paid health and pension plans and a cost-of-living escalator.

A presidential fact finding board recommended a 48 cents an hour increase over 3.5 years and the airlines accepted it, but the machinists rejected it. Their demand would be nearly 60 per cent more than the wage increase suggested by the presidential inquiry.

The issue, of course, is basically one between the machinists and the public, not the airlines, because the public will pay the bill in air fares. Our big airlines have been prosperous lately, but it's a welcome change from their long struggle for financial stability. Over 5 years the airlines have averaged earnings of 6.5 per cent and the Civil Aeronautics Board says 10.5 per cent is reasonable.

American Airlines, one of the biggies, hasn't been struck, because it wasn't in the pooled arrangement for bargaining with the machinists, but now it's threatened with a strike by the Transport Workers Union and President Johnson is setting up an emergency board to postpone for 60 days a shutdown of this overburdened airline. Similar procedure didn't prevent the machinists strike and there's a general feeling in the nation—except in labor leadership—that the government must do something about strikes which upset national industries or public convenience.

President Johnson himself, when asked why he hadn't fulfilled a promise to propose new legislation dealing with damaging nationwide strikes said: "We would like to find a solution that could be embraced by the administration, management and labor and the congress. Up to this point we have not been very successful."

It may never be possible to satisfy all those elements, but the public patience with tieups like the airline strike is waning and pressures on congress to do something will be increasing.

U.S. Senator Bob Griffin (R-Michigan) has introduced a joint resolution calling for establishment of a bipartisan Joint Congressional Committee on Industrial Bargaining. "It is apparent that a congressional vehicle needed to cope with this broad problem does not now exist in the organization of congress," said Griffin.

Griffin sees the dangers in government arbitration of difficulties like the airline strike, as well as the need for doing something about them. When the federal government gave its legal blessing and backing to collective bargaining between labor and business, it was believed the best process that could be devised to bring the two sides into an economic agreement in the public interest.

Collective bargaining has had a great development and a large experience and its merits and demerits are clearer now. Labor has achieved great power and been able to use it to upgrade the workers' share in the profits of industry, but the use of this power to enforce the demands of groups of workers has brought huge disruptions in the economy and public convenience at times, as in the current airline strike.

These disruptions seem to multiply as their examples of success increase and they project a problem of national inability to preserve the public interest when it is challenged by any organized minority. On the other hand, however, and giving Senator Griffin and all other would-be authors of correction pause, are the implications of government arbitration. It will mean even bigger government and that's a danger in itself.

Griffin proposes that perhaps arbitration can be limited to industries like transportation, where the government already sets rates and limits competition. The prospects of arbitration in such areas are more likely and more justified, he suggests, although even here it's chancey because interstate commerce can affect even a fish bait stand.

The problem is real and deeply difficult and public intolerance of the abuses it creates will help bring a solution.

Longer Look

Prediction:

The short, short skirt is not for long.

Why?

Because fashions never stand still. They must change, if for no other reason than that it's good for our morale and for the national economy.

And there's really no direction for today's skirt to go but down—unless, of course, it's to disappear entirely. And even in the era of the undressed look, this has to be regarded as improbable.

Now, husbands, you may as well face it that while the ladies can shorten skirts ad infinitum, they can lengthen them only so much. And if you know fashion changes, even vicariously, you know only so much won't be enough.

So get set, men, to help the economy.

And enjoy yourselves while you can, girl-watchers. (But you know, fellows, it'll be kind of fun to have to guess a little again, at that.)

The Only Pebble on the Beach?

Romney GOP Hope

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — The special light that sets off a presidential candidate follows Michigan's Republican Gov. George W. Romney at this National Governors' Conference.

But he is already finding that it is a somewhat pitiless glare. Last year in Minneapolis, Romney stumbled badly in his major press conference appearance. Not even a machete would have cut through some of his tangled answers. His own aides went away muttering.

This time, under questioning and in conference discussions, his performance generally has been a good deal crisper, tidier and more punchy. Yet his aides are more than a little annoyed to discover that veteran candidate-watchers, viewing him now as a presidential prospect, have raised their gauges of judgment. By these higher standards they still pronounce him a puzzling figure.

Answering questions after a speech at a hotel a mile from this conference setting, Romney—on the vital subject of Viet Nam—got caught in another of those verbal thickets he has plunged into so often before. Reports had it that his own assistants, playing back a tape hours later, could not understand his answer.

Word filtering out of closed-door sessions suggested that not Romney but lame-duck Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania was the Republican listened to most carefully. The candidate-watchers insisted this demonstrated a lack of "presidential-style" authority on the Michigan governor's part.

No one here seems to question that the handsome, aggressive, firm-voiced Romney looks like a president, just as he looks like a governor. But many are daring to suggest that his obvious star quality is somehow flawed.

Nevertheless, some of the watchers concede that they may be applying standards too stiff to be politically realistic. A good many women who sat in on his press conference this time thought him both impressive and attractive. Their responses could be a sounder measure of Romney's present public status.

If any of Romney's moderate-minded Republican colleagues still have any lingering doubts about his suitability for high office, they do not seem ready to toss him aside as their candidate for the 1968 presidential nomination.

In fact, a prominent GOP governor told this reporter privately that when the party's governors convene in December, a month after the 1968 elections, they may very well launch Romney on his way with an overwhelming on-the-record endorsement. Nothing like it has been tried in modern Republican history.

Such action would not come, of course, if the governor failed to win re-election in Michigan by a thumping majority. But there really are no other hampering provisions.

Through it would obviously help his status as a vote-getter and a party man, it simply is not true that Romney "must" pull in U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, now merely an appointee, and several congressional candidates to prove himself with his potential backers for the nomination.

The fundamental fact is that, in the eyes of the moderate hounding for a candidate, George Romney is the only man who has "position." He is the only one they see who has the presidential look, is a fairly well-proven vote-getter, has some seasoning and evidently good record in government, and wants the big job.

That "inner logic of politics" compels their focus upon him despite any visible flaws, despite any possible failure next autumn to pull in other Republicans with him.

He may not be quite the commanding figure they would like; he may still flounder from time to time in discussing major issues (especially foreign); he may still disturb them a little with his dominating religious bent and his less-than-perfect grasp of politics. It could all be beside the point. They need him.

It would be a mistake, however, to assume that Romney's political life today is so charmed that nothing could do him in. The harsher critics at this conference believe he might yet kick away his presidential chances if he does not soon exhibit greater knowledgeability and a sense of command in foreign affairs.

The odds run strongly the other way. The moderates have no real taste for Richard Nixon. In addition, they look upon such potential new GOP winners as Charles Percy of Illinois and Ronald Reagan of California as likely to be too green and too preoccupied with first-term duties to be turned to except in grave emergency. Romney is their man.

I read with great interest your editorial, in the Monday, July 25, press, "The Greatest Debate." I don't think there has been any greater issue up for debate, in our country, since it was founded, even taking into consideration the Constitutional Convention. We are getting away, as Senator J. William Fulbright has mentioned often, and whom you quoted much in your editorial, from this great Constitution.

Our Congress allowed President Truman to have an undeclared war in Korea, which had much to do with Dwight Eisenhower becoming President in 1952, because he said he would settle that undeclared war and he did, and we are thankful. Now Congress has allowed President Johnson to start another undeclared war in Viet Nam, the consequences of which nobody in this world knows.

The Republican Party has shirked its duty with no leadership as a minority party, to put up some objections and arguments to this deviation from our Constitution. Congress has shirked its duty, because it says that it shall be the power of Congress to declare war. So now we have a situation where our boys are going to be tried as war criminals because there is no declaration of war. Just last night on the radio it was stated by one of the larger news agencies that throughout the world it is being said that President Johnson, Secretary McNamara and Secretary Rusk are war mongers. Where has that American image gone, that was such a great example for many years to all of the world.

If we in the United States think we can control, with our power and our money, all the political, the economic and the military goings-on in this world today, we will find ourselves going down the road to ruin. We must cease fearing the Russian type of revolution, the Chinese type of revolution and the American type of revolution that may be coming if our foreign policy continues as is.

We must face the facts that Russian Communism and Chinese Communism are here to stay for a long time and that the White Russians and Chiang Kai-Shek and his banker backers are out and new governments are in, and we must recognize and live with them or build a high wall as China did years ago.

If you and all of the other victims of the rock throwing, glass breaking rampage that took place in Escanaba recently, will allow yourselves to be reluctant to collect the damage for the reason of our public servants' state, "Why sign a complaint, the families don't have anything," you are only aiding and furthering more of the same in other areas as well as your own.

Any public servant making such a statement is also aiding and furthering the cause for more of the same in the future and should be replaced with someone capable to carry out such duties. ### Dear Ann Landers: I've read some pretty stupid advice in your column but telling that 70-year-old grandfather to wait until 1967 to take his 18-year-old granddaughter on a trip to Europe just because he couldn't afford separate rooms this year was the dumbest thing yet.

To begin with, the grandfather might not be here in 1967 and that girl could miss a chance of a lifetime just because YOU didn't think it was proper. If a girl can't trust her own grandfather, for heaven's sake, who can she trust?

I'll bet Grandpa has changed that girl's diapers and given her a bath dozens of times. Your advice was dumb and I hope it was ignored. — JUDI

Dear Judi: Gramps may well have changed the girl's diapers and given her baths — but not lately, dearie. Little girls DO grow up to be big girls.

Apparently you were so ignited by my advice that you didn't bother to read Gramp's letter. He described himself as "full of pep and a real swinger." This is not to suggest that I think gramps is a dirty old man, but I did get the impression that he is likely to live at least another year — which is the length of time he said it would take to save for separate rooms.

Dear Ann Landers: You do a good job for a non-lawyer. I asked your advice to the father who wrote about his avaricious children. They were trying to persuade him to stop spending his money so they would inherit a sizeable estate.

The next time you advise someone about estates, however do them a favor and suggest that they leave the original of the will with an attorney and keep a copy.

Why? Father dies. Number two and three sons and their wives are the first to appear on the scene. They find Dad's will. The lion's share is left to number one son.

This sort of thing happens every day. It cannot occur if the original of the will is deposited safely in the attorney's vault. Pass the word, will you please? — ATTORNEY W.J.M.

Dear W.J.M.: It's nice lawyers like you who help a non-lawyer like me alert millions of readers to some important facts of life. We are in your debt.

Dear Ann: I'm 43 now and ever since Mike and I married I've helped him in business. When he sold cookware I washed dishes while he gave the health talk. When he went to work for a trucking company and his helper didn't show up I'd go along and help him unload the furniture. Now we own a small cafe and I'm the cashier, bookkeeper and general manager.

Last month Mike hired a go-go girl as a waitress. He said she'd be a drawing card. We didn't NEED a drawing card. We need someone who will work — and she won't.

I don't want Mike to think I am jealous. He is not a skirt-chaser and I don't worry about such things. But what should I do? — BOOTS

Dear Boots: Keep your eye peeled for a working replacement for Miss Drawing Card. When you have one, hand the doll her walking papers and let her go-go.

Confidential to In The Dumps: Well — get out of 'em. So whom do you expect to meet there? Nothing repels people like a self-pitying female. Get off your "qualifications" and except those invitations.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

THE DOCTOR SAYS:

Location Of Tumors

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q — Can a woman with uterine nodules become pregnant?

A — Although in many women fibroids are a cause of sterility this is not universally true. The determining factors would be the size and exact location of the tumor.

Q — Is it true that in performing a Caesarean section the doctor is unable to tell where the baby is located? If so, isn't there danger that his incision will cut the baby?

A — There is no danger. The doctor's incision is not a blind stab but a careful dissection.

Q — A friend has been told that her left fallopian tube is completely closed and cannot be reopened. Her right ovary and tube are normal. What are her chances of becoming pregnant?

A — It only takes one. The other provides Nature's factor of safety.

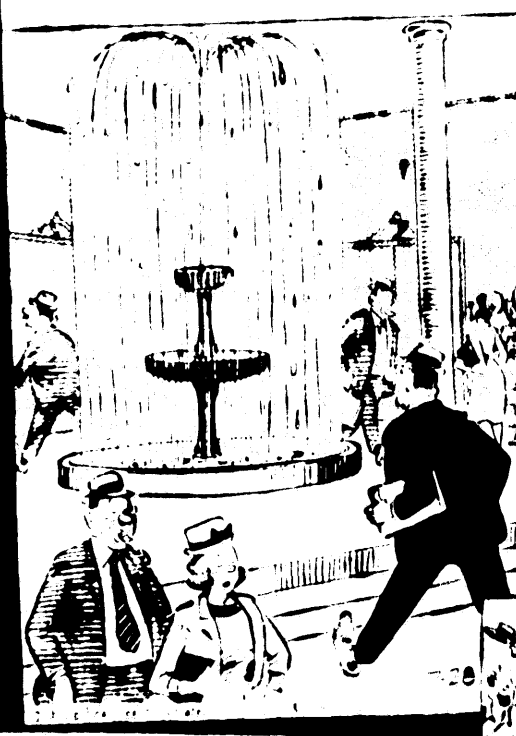

Q — In the case of multiple births does each baby have a separate afterbirth?

A — If the babies sprang from the same fertilized ovum (identical twins), there would be a single afterbirth or placenta. If from separate ova (fraternal twins), each would have his own placental attachment. The question is academic, however, because frequently the separate placentas fuse and become one.

Q — Some people say flu-

why does the fish in Cap'n John's frozen fish dinners taste fresh-cooked?

Because you cook the fish.

It takes no longer than heating pre-cooked frozen fish...only 20 minutes.

You see, we're sort of fanatics about fresh fish flavor.
So we refuse to pre-cook the fish.

Here's what we do:

We dip the fillet in milk batter.

Bread it. Top it with butter.

We blanch the peas.

Partly cook the potatoes.

So everything's done at once (in only 20 minutes)
when you cook it.

The result.

A fish dinner that tastes like the fish is fresh-cooked.
It should. Because it is.

One important tip.

Be sure the oven is really pre-heated to 400° F.

Are our Cap'n John's Frozen Fish Dinners
a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many.

Socialists Say Text Is Unfair

LANSING (AP) — A history textbook used in Michigan schools is unfair to Socialism, says Ralph Muncy, Michigan chairman of the Socialist Labor Party.

Muncy filed the first complaint received by the State Board of Education under a new law that requires school and district administrators pay close attention to the content of social studies and history textbooks to make sure they treat racial and ethnic groups fairly. The state board is to make a spot check yearly and report its findings to the Legislature. The law, which takes effect late in September, carries no sanctions. Nor does it entitle the board to take any specific action in regard to the district or the textbook.

In a 24-page letter to the board, Muncy complained that the textbook references to Socialism "are so thoroughly unreliable (even libelous) that the reliability of the whole text is open to question."

The author, Muncy said, "laid a rotten premise," used "faulty terminology," and made "implications derogatory of Daniel DeLeon (an early 20th Century leader of American Socialism) and of the Socialist Labor Party."

The new law started out as a bill to require one semester of American Negro History in all Michigan schools, but later was broadened to include all racial and ethnic minority groups. The requirement for a specific course of study was deleted.

"It is just as important that the content of textbooks be honest, correct and decent with respect to any subject or social question," Muncy said.

Board President Thomas Brennan said the board will consider Muncy's complaint after it adopts procedures for administration of the text-book law.

Good Walleye Fishing Noted On Indian Lake

Rain and cloudy, cooler weather should improve fishing conditions, the District Conservation Department office reports. The weather change has lessened fire hazard, but caution is still necessary.

Fair to poor results for larger game fish have been noted and good to fair for panfish. Northern pike fishing is described as relatively poor, but with exceptions. A 15 1/2 pound and a 17 1/2 pound northern were reported from Little Beaver Lake in Alger County and Al Beisel of Engadine caught a 15 pound 6 ounce northern on Whitefish Lake in Mackinac County. A 9 pound and a 12 pound pike were caught on Boot Lake, where pike fishing is reported good.

Lily Lake, near Boot Lake is also good and some nice pike have been caught in Indian Lake of Schoolcraft County.

Pike
Cowbells and crawler harnesses had them hitting good in the ship channel of the Upper St. Mary's, Waitsa Bay and Carp and Frenchman lakes in Chippewa County. The Blind Sucker Flooding and Muskallonge Lake are producing small pike. Big Manistique and Round (North Manistique) lakes are producing a few pike and some "tackle busters" have been defying fishermen on Round Lake.

East Bay, Sucker, Sulliver, Hemlock and Pickerel lakes in Alger County have been producing some and an occasional pike is being taken in Grand Sable Lake.

Walleye fishing has been picking up on the lower St. Mary's River and Waitsa Bay, using night crawler harness for bait. A few nice fish were taken in Frenchman and Carp lakes and Waitsa River. A few walleye were taken in Manistique and Round lakes. Good catches have been reported from Indian Lake in Schoolcraft County.

Rainbows
Yellow perch have been taken from North and Lavender lakes in Alger County, Big Manistique, Muskallonge, Bass and East lakes in Luce, Whitefish, Milakokia and Millicoquins lakes and Epoufette Bay in Mackinac County and Snyder, Worcester, and Indian lakes, Schoolcraft County. Small minnows and cut bait produce best results.

Bluegills were taken from Twin, Deadman's and Pratt lakes of Luce County, Millicoquins, Little Brevoort and Whitefish lakes in Mackinac, Indian, Dodge, Island, Twin, Sunken and Minerva lakes in Schoolcraft County.

Rock bass were caught in Grand Sable, Hulbert, Round and Crooked lakes, the Blind Sucker Flooding and Tahquamenon River.

Smallmouth bass have been caught in North and Grand Sable, Booby Cay, Pratt and Crooked lakes and largemouths in Stuart Lake of Luce County.

and Crooked and Twin lakes in Schoolcraft.

Bullheads have been caught in Millicoquins and Whitefish lakes and Dutch Fred Lake.

Rainbow trout have been caught in East Bay, Alger County, the Two-Hearted, Luce County and Dodge-Island Lake, Schoolcraft County (fishing deep at night). Fishing flies in the evening produced brown trout catches in Fibron Pond, Mackinac County.

Fish Deep
Brook trout fishing has been relatively slow over most of the district. Fair to good fishing was reported in the east branch of the Tahquamenon, Trout Brook Pond (dry flies) and Bear Creek, Chippewa County, the Upper Two-Hearted, each branch of the Two-Hearted and Little Two-Hearted in Luce County; Hendrie and East branch of Black River in Mackinac County, the Fox and east branch of the Fox and Dutch Fred Lake in Schoolcraft County. Fishing deep in trout lakes produces best results.

An occasional lake trout is being taken in Grand Sable Lake. Pretty Lake in Luce County has produced splake fishing deep, in evenings, with worms. Whitefish are being taken in the St. Mary's River, in the vicinity of Sault Ste. Marie, but is slowing down with walleye and pike moving into fishing grounds.

Rapid River Students Enjoy Cultural Trip

Thirty-five seventh, eighth, and ninth graders from the Rapid River School made a cultural growth trip to Sault Ste. Marie, recently. This was the second trip made by the group, members of a remedial grammar course at Rapid River, taught by Mrs. Yvonne Weirher of Escanaba.

The young people toured Sault Ste. Marie viewing the famous Soo Locks and visiting the Soo College Campus. They boarded the Soo Train Tour into Canada and saw various historic sections of both the Michigan and Canadian cities. Accompanying the group were grammar course instructor, Mrs. Weirher, school superintendent, Walter Peters, and bus driver, Glen Lundin.

The remedial grammar course began early in April with funds of $4,719 provided through Title I of the Federal Education Act. Monies appropriated through this act were based on the nation's 1960 census. Money granted school districts was based on families living within the area whose yearly income did not exceed $2,000. This provided the Rapid River School District with the $4,719 figure.

Rapid River School Board decided that the best plan for the use of money would be the remedial grammar course for 7, 8, and 9th graders. The cultural growth trips have also been provided through these funds. One more trip will be made by the group this year.

Midland Co-op Growth Reported At Annual Meet

Hans Van Heiningen, manager of the Bay de Noc Cooperative, Escanaba, attended a two-day managers' meeting of Midland Cooperatives, Inc., last week in Minneapolis. Mrs. Van Heiningen accompanied him.

The meeting is an annual affair, bringing together managers of local member cooperatives in Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin.

This year's session was attended by more than 400 managers and other functionaries of Midland member cooperatives, and administrative personnel of the regional office. Midland has 650 member cooperatives in its operations region.

They heard a report by Midland General Manager A. J. Smaby on the regional cooperative's first half year operations. Sales were $50.6 million for the Minneapolis-based regional cooperative distributor of petroleum, farm supplies, food and clothing, Smaby told them.

Outlining current and long range plans for more distribution facilities, Smaby said Midland has acquired ownership of Northwest Cooperative Mills, including a feed and seed plant in St. Paul and a fertilizer plant in Green Bay. A feed mill was also purchased at Watertown, Wisconsin, and a new one is under construction at New Hampton, Iowa. It will open in September.

Midland is also moving rapidly into anhydrous ammonia fertilizer service, and will have fifty such plants in operation by next spring, Smaby reported.

Feared Shark

WESTERLY, R.I. (AP) — Lifeguards cleared the water near Misquamicutt State Beach of several hundred bathers recently when they sighted a fin in the water.

It turned out to be a large ocean sunfish, instead of a shark as feared.

Volunteers For Viet Ark Brass

WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more soldiers anxious to serve in South Viet Nam have been writing to President Johnson and congressmen asking for help.

This annoys the Army. So it has put out the word which says, in effect: "Go through channels."

The Army's irritation shows through in a "personnel letter" distributed this month.

It says: "In recent weeks, there has been a considerable increase in correspondence from soldiers who claim to have volunteered for Viet Nam."

"Many of these letters are to the President and members of Congress."

"The tone of most of these letters is 'I have volunteered and haven't heard anything. Please take action to send me there.'"

It appears, the personnel letter said, that "many soldiers do not realize that VIP correspondence will not expedite nor provide preferential action on volunteer applications, and that such correspondence cannot be used in lieu of a formal application submitted through channels."

Castro Calls For Rebellion

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro asserted in a recent speech that the decade of 1970-80 will be a "decade of revolution throughout Latin America" and denounced lackadaisical pseudo-revolutionaries as the "best allies of imperialism."

In a 2½-hour speech commemorating the 13th anniversary of his 26th of July revolution.

tionary movement. Castro called on true Latin-American revolutionaries to overthrow existing governments throughout the hemisphere.

Addressing hundreds of thousands of Cubans in Havana's Revolutionary Plaza, Castro noted that U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said the decade of the 1970s would be a period of hunger throughout the world.

"But he should better have said that it will be the decade of revolution because the peoples of Latin America will not allow themselves to die from hunger," Castro declared.

"The immense majority of Latin-American countries now have a better reason for carrying on a revolution than Cuba ever had. But if this is not done it is because of the lack of conviction of some so-called revolutionaries."

Castro sounded a familiar theme of the Communist bloc with an offer to send volunteer "combat units" to fight U.S. forces in Viet Nam. He claimed thousands of Cubans have already volunteered to fight in Viet Nam.

Cedarville Claims May Go To Court For Settlement

SAINT IGNACE (AP)—A court trial may be needed to settle personal damage claims in the sinking of the freighter Cedarville, Victory G. Hanson, a Detroit attorney said.

Negotiations for a private settlement have bogged down and a trial is likely, Hanson said.

Hanson represents one major group of 13 claimants seeking $4.1 million for injuries and loss of life incurred when the Cedarville sank in the Straits of Mackinac May 7, 1965.

The negotiations for an out-of-court settlement began May 19. The talks were between United States Steel Corp., owners of the Cedarville, and 15 lawyers representing 30 claimants.

The Cedarville, heavily damaged in a collision in dense fog with the Norwegian motor vessel Topdalstjord, rolled over and sank about one mile from shore.

Ten crew members died and some of the others were hurt. Under an 1851 federal law, ship owners and insurance companies have a liability in cases of this kind of $60 per ton of ship.

In the case of the Cedarville, owners and insurers would be liable up to about $600,000.

Volunteer Does Host Of Jobs

DETROIT (AP)—The slender, attractive young lady brushed a sprig of blonde hair away from her right eye and said, "I don't know what I'm doing here, really."

She is a prime example of that phenomenon of American political campaigning, the volunteer worker.

Some stuff envelopes. Some giggle, wear bright hats and wave to crowds from convertibles in campaign motorcades.

Some eye a future job if their candidate wins.

This one works 60, 70, 80 hours a week in a viewless hotel room clipping newspaper articles, answering telephones, routing campaign leaflets, directing other volunteers—the tedious work that most voters never think about.

Her name is Mary Pardee. She's single, 27, a history major, between jobs. She doesn't get a red cent for her work on the U. S. Senate campaign of Jerome Cavanagh.

"I knew the mayor's brother," she explains. "And I like Cavanagh and his ideas." It's hard to get her to admit she voted for Goldwater in 1964. But she did.

"I started out about three months ago and said I'd go in five days a week," she recalls. "There wasn't much to do at first, so I said maybe I should cut it back to three days. I've been swamped ever since. It sure knocks out the social life."

The paid staff—advisors, technicians, secretaries—see the full-time volunteer occasionally doing some very routine task and forget she isn't one of the hired hands.

"Oh, leave that for the volunteers," they say. "What do you think I am?" Mary tells them.

Wisconsin To Appeal Braves Case

WARREN GILES, president of the National League, smiles his approval in Cincinnati Wednesday of the Wisconsin Supreme Court decision which ruled that baseball was not subject to prosecution under the state's anti-trust laws. (AP Wirephoto)

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin turned toward the U.S. Supreme Court today in its bid to bring baseball to bay on an antitrust charge after losing the battle in its own court.

The 4-3 Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling Wednesday that awarded the Braves to Atlanta left the prospect of return of baseball to Milwaukee at least distant, if not forever doubtful.

The Wisconsin court said specifically that baseball is a monopoly and gravely wounded Milwaukee by deserting the city, but it ruled the sport remained immune to antitrust prosecution.

Wisconsin's youthful Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette promised within an hour after the upset ruling that he would carry the case to the highest court in the land.

But La Follette conceded it would be at least early fall before the court would decide whether it would hear the case. And even if it does, he agreed baseball might already be in the 1967 season before any final decision is made.

Privately, Milwaukee had never harbored high hopes that its once beloved Braves might be uprooted from Atlanta and returned to their home of the past 13 seasons.

However, it had hoped, to use the legal struggle as siege gun to force baseball to compromise and give the city an expansion club.

Now that gun has been spiked, at least temporarily.

The case long has been expected to reach the U.S. Supreme Court regardless of who won Wednesday, but now it is baseball that is the home team.

It is Wisconsin which must sway the court and convince it to change the rules.

Wisconsin's Supreme Court read into a famed 1922 U.S. Supreme Court decision the intent that baseball be left untouched to police itself unless Congress intervened. Congress has stayed silent, said the court, and therefore so should the state.

The justices added that a state could hardly expect to try to govern a business that spans a continent.

The decision reversed a Milwaukee court's verdict that the National League and the Braves were guilty of violating the state's antitrust law.

It hurled the case out of court. With it went an April order that the Braves must return to Milwaukee unless a 1967 expansion team were provided the city.

La Follette noted the Wisconsin court agreed that baseball had victimized Milwaukee, but split by the narrowest of margins on the question of whether federal law allowed the state law to be enforced.

"The state court has held it is 'em one at a time,'" a federal question and this is right down the Supreme Court's alley," said La Follette.

Baseball was too busy celebrating Wednesday's victory to open this winter's battle, National League President Warren Giles said. "We will deal with that as the managers say during a pennant race — 'We'll play 'em one at a time.'"

Koufax Gets No Decision

Sandy Sound, Dodgers Win

By The Associated Press

Sandy Koufax has given his achy left arm an 11-inning acid test and proved that the Los Angeles Dodgers can win without him.

The Dodgers are within a whisker of the National League lead after Koufax' longest pitching ordeal of the season but all the matchless southpaw has to show for it are two more strikeout standards and a no-decision.

And Philadelphia's Jim Bunning knows just how Sandy feels.

Bunning and Koufax gave way to relief pitchers after a brilliant 11-inning duel Wednesday night and the Dodgers immediately pushed over an unearned run in the 12th for a 2-1 victory that stretched their winning string to six and put them only one-half game behind first-place Pittsburgh in the NL race.

The Pirates climbed back into the top spot with a 5-3 victory over San Francisco, dropping the Giants into second place.

Koufax, whose arthritic pitching arm became painfully inflamed after his last start — causing speculation that he would miss a starting turn for the first time this year — overpowered the Phillies except for a second-inning homer by Rich Allen. He yielded only four hits and fanned 16, breaking one of his own records and moving up a peg on the all-time strikeout list.

His fourth strikeout was the 2,277th of his career, moving him past Lefty Grove into 10th position among the lifetime leaders. His 13th strikeout, in the ninth inning, was his 200th this season, marking the sixth straight year he has reached that plateau.

But, although Koufax also became the first hurler to pass the 200-inning mark — while lowering his major-league leading earned run average to 1.65 — he failed to register victory No. 18.

Instead, Phil Regan, who pitched the 12th, gained his eighth victory against a single setback.

Elsewhere, St. Louis and New York continued to reel. The Cardinals downing Atlanta 9-7 for their ninth victory in the last 10 games and the Mets edging Houston 3-2 for a 10-3 mark over their last 13. Cincinnati battered Chicago 11-2 in the other NL game.

Jim Davenport, San Francisco's usually slick-fielding third baseman, committed two errors in the ninth, helping the Pirates push over two runs and regain the league lead by two percentage points.

Bill Mazeroski singled one run in and Manny Mota delivered the other with a sacrifice fly after Davenport threw wildly on Donn Clendenon's bunt single and then bobbled Jim Pagan's sacrifice bunt for a second miscue.

Clendenon's solo homer and a two-run shot by Gene Alley completed the Pittsburgh scoring.

The Cardinals climbed within 7½ games of the top behind right-hander Ray Washburn, who won his fifth straight with late-inning relief help and hit a double and his first major league homer, a two-run wallop in the five-run fourth.

Bob Friend combined with reliever Jack Hamilton for a six-hitter and gained his fourth victory in five decisions with New York as the Mets beat the Astros for the seventh time in a row to tie Atlanta for eighth place. Ken Boyer's two-run homer paced the Met attack.

Tommy Helms stroked three singles and a double, and Pete Rose and Vada Pinson added three hits apiece in the Reds' romp over Chicago. Rose and Leo Cardenas homered in a 16-hit attack that backed the seven-hit pitching of winner Jim O'Toole.

Agee Bids For Rookie Honors

CHICAGO (AP) — A broken hand, an additional year of experience and the determination of a team of horses could vault Tommie Agee of the Chicago White Sox to rookie of the year honors in the American League.

Agee, 23, has a handsome chance of achieving his goal although he realizes he must put a little beef on his so-so batting average.

"I want to win it badly," said Agee Wednesday night after driving in four runs to lead the Sox to a 5-0 victory over Detroit behind the seven-hit pitching of John Buzhardt.

"I can do it but I have a few faults to overcome," said Agee. "I have to get a few more base hits. I have to cut down on my strikeouts and I have to play a little better in the field even though I think I can hold my own against any centerfielder."

Detroit pitcher Earl Wilson allowed only four hits in the seven innings he worked, but the first three spelled his downfall.

The first was a triple by Tom McCraw in the second. He scored on a sacrifice fly by Agee. In the fourth his double scored Don Buford. Wilson loaded the bases with three walks in the sixth and Agee cleared them with a double.

McLain To Pitch

It was Wilson's ninth defeat, against as many victories and it evened the current series between the two teams at 1-1.

Chicago pitcher John Buzhardt limited the Tigers to seven hits in the game, four coming with two outs.

The series will conclude tonight with Denny McLain pitching for the Tigers. Then the team will move on to Kansas City for a weekend series with the Athletics.

Angels Have No Love For Senator Valentine

By The Associated Press

All the sweet talk in the world won't help. Until they are treated more gently, the California Angels won't show any affection for Washington's Valentine.

Dan Cupid used a bow and arrow but gave Fred Valentine a bat and the Angels to hit against and the results are just as devastating.

Valentine walloped a grand slam homer and a double Wednesday night, driving in five runs as Washington whipped California 7-5.

His slugging was hardly unexpected by the Angels. Like a persistent beau, he's been pestering them all season. Valentine, batting .278 overall, is hitting at an amazing .521 pace against California.

The husky Senators outfielder has had 25 hits in 48 swings against the Angels this season.

He has driven in 38 runs, 20 of them against California.

He tagged his 10th home run of the season in the third inning against rookie Clyde Wright following bunt singles by Ed Brinkman and Ken McMullen and a fielder's choice which loaded the bases.

In the sixth, his bloop double scored McMullen, who had singled.

Brinkman had four hits for the Senators and Barry Moore won his second major league game in as many starts.

Elsewhere, New York downed Minnesota 6-3, Chicago blanked Detroit 5-0, Baltimore defeated Cleveland 7-1 and Kansas City routed Boston 14-2.

Bobby Richardson and Joe Pepitone walloped two-run homers and Horace Clarke drove in two runs with a triple as the Yankees downed the Twins.

Richardson and Clarke keyed New York's four-run first inning against loser Jim Kaat, 14-7.

After the Twins had grabbed a quick 2-0 lead, Fred Talbot went the distance for his ninth victory, retiring 15 in a row over one stretch.

John Buzhardt pitched his fourth shutout of the season and Tommie Agee drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a sacrifice fly for the White Sox.

Tom McCraw had three hits, driving in one run and scoring another for Chicago.

Robinson Connects

Frank Robinson hammered his 30th homer of the season, one of three circuits for the Orioles as Dave McNally won his 10th.

Robinson connected with two on in the seventh after rookie Larry Haney and veteran Luis Aparicio had homered earlier. Del Crandall hit his fourth for the Indians.

McNally, who pitched a six-hitter, striking out eight, contributed three straight singles to the Baltimore attack.

Kansas City used 13 singles and bases-empty homers by Mike Hersherberger and Jim Gosger to humble the Red Sox.

Jim Nash got credit for the victory, his fourth.

Hersherberger had two singles to go with his first homer of the season as Kansas City snapped a four-game losing streak. Gosger's homer was his eighth.

Speedway Golf Tourney Opens

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) —

The $92,000 Festival Open Golf Tournament starts bleakly today with the pros wearing black ribbons in memory of their colleague, Tony Lama, killed in a plane crash last Sunday.

The tourney is one of the PGA's most unusual events.

During a pro-amateur affair Wednesday, which Jacky Cupit topped with a six-under-par 66 for a record on the new Seidway course, a memorial to Lama was recorded.

At noon, play was halted and taps sounded on the loud speaker system. The Rev. Paul Reicher, Speedway chaplain, gave a brief memorial prayer.

Flags were put at half staff for the remainder of the meet, which ends Sunday.

Two minutes of silence were observed over the entire course. A flare burst overhead.

A field of 135 teed off today. Posted in the locker rooms was a notice that funeral services for Lama and his wife, Betty, were to be held today in San Leandro, Calif.

Billy Casper was installed the tournament favorite. He won the same title in 1962 and is on the crest of a great 1966 season after taking the National and Western Opens.

The course, stretching 7,179 yards with a par 36-38-72, is so new that winter rains—improving lies on the fairways—prevail.

Defending champion is Bruce Crampton. Among those missing from the field are Al Geiberger, newly crowned PGA champion, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Sam Snead.

Chris Barron of the Country Club fired a 44 to take low gross honors. Mrs. Hansen's 46 topped Highland women and Dorothy Coulter shot a 48 to pace Gladstone golfers.

It was announced that ladies day at the Highland next week will be held Monday because of the Men's U. P. Golf Tournament set Aug. 3-6. Deadline for sign-up for the Women's Invitational at Marquette is Friday.

BATTING — Tommy Helms, Reds, slashed three singles and a double in four trips in 11-2 victory over Cubs.

PITCHING — John Buzhardt, White Sox, scattered seven hits for his fourth shutout of the year in 5-0 triumph over Detroit.

Ford To Return To Race Circuit

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor

Co. indicated Wednesday that it plan to return to the stock car circuit next year if current penalties on its most powerful racing engine are dropped.

Ford declined to go quite as far as Chrysler Corp., which last week officially bowed out of stock car racing for 1967.

But Ford said, as Chrysler did last week that it did not plan to support factory teams as such in stock car racing. It indicated that the Charlotte, N.C. firm of Holman and Moody will help develop Ford's racing engines and will recruit the drivers to test them in competition.

Ford officials said Wednesday they never had any direct contracts with stock car drivers. Chrysler had several drivers under contract this year but released them for the 1967 season.

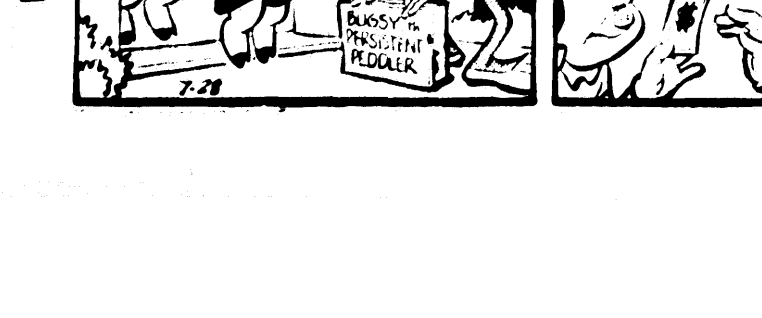

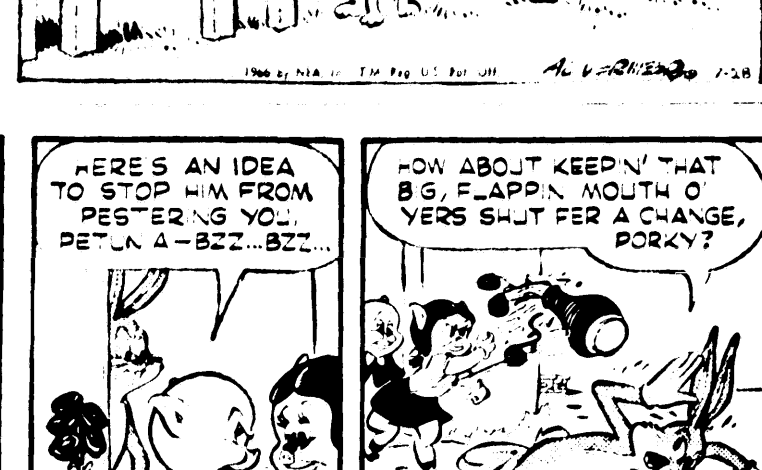

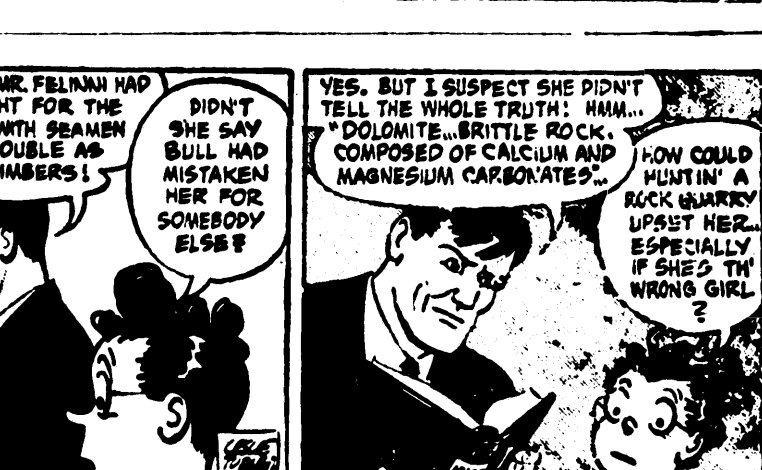

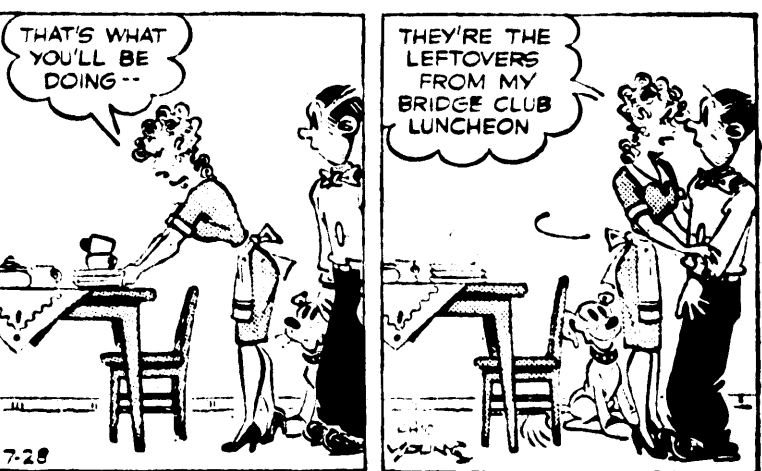

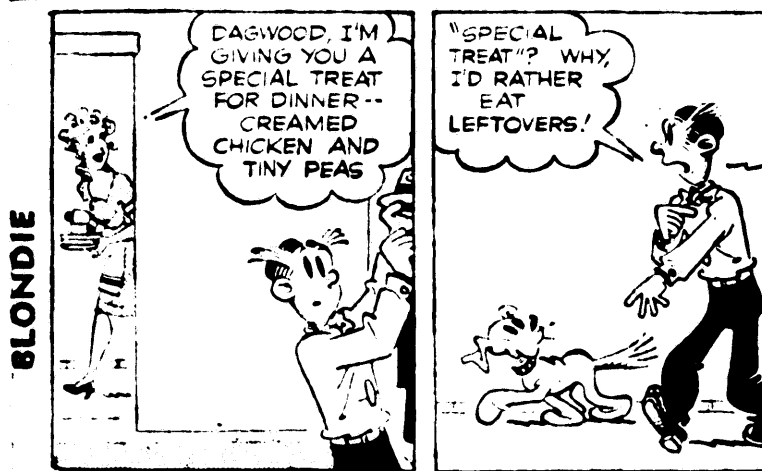

Ford Vice President Donald N. Ivey said, "Ford continues to help develop Ford's racing engines and will recruit the drivers to test them in competition."

In Daytona Beach, Bill president of NASCAR, said "

Ruppe, Varnum Answer League

The League of Women Voters, continuing its program of voter information, has queried congressional and state representative candidates for answers to specific questions relating to state and federal affairs.

Replies were received by the Escanaba League of Women Voters from Phillip E. Ruppe, Houghton, candidate for 11th District Congressman; and Charles H. Varnum, Manistique, State Representative candidate. Both are Republicans.

The League reported that replies were not received from Rep. Einar Erlandsen, (D), Escanaba, or from Congressman Raymond Clevenger, (D), Sault Ste. Marie.

Ruppe attended Central Michigan University, the University of Michigan, and received his B. A. from Yale University. He is president and general manager of the Bosch Brewing Co., Houghton; and is director of the Houghton National Bank and the L-Anse Commercial National Bank.

"Cut The Waste"

He has a long record of activity in civic affairs, in service and veterans' organizations.

The League's questions related to aspects of U. S. domestic and foreign policy, and Ruppe replied:

"I support programs the government initiates to stop inflation. It is important that we cut the waste and high costs of government spending so that we prevent further rises in the cost of living."

"I have talked with many

Laboratory Is Given Approval

Accreditation of the St. Francis Hospital Laboratory under the direction of Roland E. Borry, M.D., was announced this week by Ernest E. Simard, M.D., president of the College of American Pathologists, an organization of 5000 Medical Doctors practicing the specialty of Pathology, with headquarters in Chicago.

The laboratory has been accredited for meeting standards of laboratory performance established by the College of American Pathologists following an on-site inspection by a representative of the CAP's Commission on Laboratory Inspection and Accreditation.

Praising the laboratory director and the hospital's governing board and administrator for their cooperation, the College's statement emphasized that accreditation reflected credit to the institution for its high quality of laboratory performance.

The goal of the new accreditation program is to assess the strengths and limitations of laboratory performance including the quality of laboratory personnel, adequate space and equipment, efficiency, safety and accuracy in processing reports and records.

THE COLLISION of these cars on U.S. 2-41 west of Escanaba at 8:30 a.m. today brought the traffic crashes to three and the injuries to seven in Delta County in about 18 hours. The auto (left) was driven by Edward Ottomom of Stockbridge, Mich., the other was driven by Simon Sayen, Escanaba Rte. 1. (Daily Press Photo)

Highway Crashes: Seven Injured In 3 Accidents

Highway accidents took their toll in injuries in Delta County last night and today, putting seven in the hospital after three crashes.

State Police said that two persons, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ottomom of Henney Road, Stockbridge, Mich., were the most recent. They were hurt in a collision of cars on U. S. 2-41 a short distance west of Escanaba at 8:30 a.m. today.

Their injuries were not serious and their three children escaped unhurt in the accident.

The other car was driven by Simon Sayen of Escanaba Rte. 1. State Police reported that Sayen made a left turn in front of the Ottomom car. Sayen was given traffic court notice for failing to yield the right of way and no operator's license.

Collide On Hill

Four persons were injured in the collision of two automobiles at the St. Jacques Hill on U. S. 2. State Police reported. The accident was at 5:25 p.m. Wednesday.

The cars were driven by Marcello Polin, 52, of Chicago, who received a traffic court summons for driving left of center; and John Falasz, 65, of Naperville, Ill.

Falasz and his wife, Ruth, 63, were injured and were taken by ambulance toward their home in Illinois, but halted at a hospital in Wisconsin because of the condition of the patients.

Two passengers in the Polin car, Caroline Dalbiano, 37, and Augusta Dalbiano, 37, Sudbury, Ontario, are patients in St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba.

The child is reported in fairly good condition and Augusta as fair. Two other passengers, Florina, 9, and Mario Dalbiano, 39, were uninjured.

State Police reported that the car driven by Polin turned in-

Wilson Seeking Support Of U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson flies to Washington today, and high political authorities said he would seek ironclad American support for the wobbling pound sterling during the next six to nine months.

Wilson was reported confident such a breathing space would provide the time his Labor government needs for its crash program of deflation to pull Britain out of the red.

The economic crisis, its implications on Britain's role in the world and the Viet Nam war will dominate Wilson's conference with President Johnson Friday.

Wilson will give the President a detailed account of his recent Moscow talks with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin. The prime minister has claimed privately that these discussions produced a new understanding of the motivations, strains and stresses within the divided Communist world. This suggests he feels he can throw new light on the Moscow-Peking-Hanoi relationship.

Two other passengers, including John Lancour, 20, of 215 N. 10th St., Escanaba, were unhurt. Lancour was given a summons for allowing an unlicensed minor to drive.

In other traffic investigations by State Police court notices were issued to Richard Thomas, Escanaba, no registration plates; Julius Kalman, Ensign, improper lane usage; Robert Chase, Ensign, no operator's license; Hilmer Nyberg, Cornell, disobeying a traffic light; and John Daigenault, 423 S. 15th St., no proof of insurance.

State Police also reported that a car driven by Oren Duthrie, Walkertown, Ind., struck and killed a deer on U. S. 2 in Garden Township last night.

Training Dates

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan National Guard will train at Camp Grayling July 15-29 next year, Maj. Gen. Clarence Schnipke, state adjutant general, announced Wednesday. Ohio units will train May 27-June 10, and June 24-July 8, and the Indiana National Guard will train June 10-24.

Hundreds Visit Historymobile In Two Days

More than 500 persons visited the Michigan Historical Commission Historymobile at Ludington Park in two days and several hundred more were expected there today. The display will be there through Sunday.

The "museum on wheels" is parked adjacent to the Delta County Historical Museum at Sand Point, and visitors often tour exhibits at both places. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Delta County Historical Museum is also open evenings 7 to 9.

Charles C. Carter, who with Mrs. Carter are in charge of the $50,000 Historymobile on its travels about the state each summer, reported there were 278 visitors on Tuesday and 233 on Wednesday.

Today the Historymobile is being visited by groups of children on summer school programs and from Rotary Camp Harslad for handicapped children.

The Historymobile displays, covering the state's past and present, were assembled from materials in 14 Michigan museums. The traveling exhibit project has the cooperation of a group of the state's industries.

Pay State For Fish Kill By Industry Waste

BAYFIELD, Wis. — In a precedent-setting action which could be a new pattern for the nation, the Wisconsin Conservation Commission has accepted the largest sum in the state's history for pollution damage.

The commission approved a $22,500 payment for fish killed in August, 1965, by wastes from the Fall River Canning Co., Cambria, when an irrigation system broke down.

The wastes were discharged into the Tarrant mill pond. Conservation wardens counted a kill of 28,710 panfish, largely bluegills, and 874 bass.

The Legislature had set a value of $2 for each game fish and $3 for each bass so the total claim was $57,790. The dispute was settled without court action.

Push Hunt For Stilwell Plane

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A five-day air and sea search continued over the Pacific Ocean today for Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, two companions and their missing airplane.

"Anything from a glass ball bouncing on the waves to a floating milk container has been checked out," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Navy and Coast Guard vessels—including the aircraft carrier Hornet—are taking part. Eight merchant ships joined the hunt.

The twin-engine DC3 plane carrying Stilwell, commander of the Army's Special Warfare Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N.C., reported Sunday it was having engine trouble and was not heard from again.

With the general were two employees of an air ferry service.
